GLASS IN THE GARDEN BY GEORGE PAPADOPOULOS

Glass artist and sculptor George Papadopoulos has created a sculptural installation in shattered glass for a heritage property in north London that matches a trio of panels he already made for its inner courtyard. George's artworks take different forms - small-scale 'paintings' and freestanding or hanging pieces even - but the smashed glass creations are particularly successful as large-scale architectural features - indoors or out.

Measuring 2.5m x 40cm, the striking glass panel with its stainless steel base costs from £13,000 and is available through Saffron Interior Arts.
